To different students, high school means a variety of things. The Shamrocks, too, find quite special meanings for their school. To most, school is not just a place of learning with books, teachers, classes, and homework, but a place with never-ending spirit, dedicated students and teachers, and long-lived memories. While here, many students look forward to their daily schedule of activities and later, after graduation look back with a sense of fulfillment and pride at their time at SPHS.

Because our school is Chicago's oldest Catholic boys' high school, it has developed a tradition of academic excellence and involvement in sports or organizations that aid the school: student council, honor society, yearbook and a multitude of other clubs and activities. It also means a strong sense of parental involvement via the Parents' Club which raises money and general support for school programs, which are organized by a highly competent and well-educated faculty.

The year in sports saw the wrestling team send three members downstate to win a 3rd in state, while the basketball team placed 2nd in conference and the overall program improved despite obstacles and injuries. Most of the sports had personnel changes as a number of new coaches assumed control. In most of the programs, groundwork was laid for future success.

To a freshman, St. Pat's meant the beginning of high school and a new start. The sophomores and juniors perceived the school as an onward march, though occasionally a tedious one and for seniors it was the end and a new beginning. Each, however, saw and many became involved in the year's significant events: Homecoming week, the raffle drive, spirit week and retreats. For the juniors, the ring ceremony signalled another step towards manhood while the junior prom and the ACT were notable memories. Of course, for the seniors, the Senior Prom and Graduation highlighted the year.

St. Pat's offered many interesting elective courses to broaden the students' perspectives, including: a choice of three different languages, technical drawing, art and concert chorus. A choice of 13 different business courses and AP classes in English, biology, and mathematics, also strengthened the academic offerings. This variety definitely permitted the students the opportunity to develop their full potential and to absorb a spirit of religion, morals and culture; further implementing the school's motto: RELIGIO, MORES, CULTURA.

SINGING A NEW SONG

On December 13, the St. Patrick High School Concert chorus performed for the first time with the Good Counsel High School Choir. Before a full house at the Wright Junior College auditorium, they entertained the crowd with: 12 days After Christmas, Jingle Bell Rock, Sing We Noel, Joyous Christmas, I Heard the Bells on Christmas Day, and What Child Is This, and others.

The 25 member chorus, smaller than before, put on a most enjoyable concert under their new director, Mr. Thomas Robaczewski. Mr. Robaczewski not only directed the chorus, but he also taught a music class during period one daily.

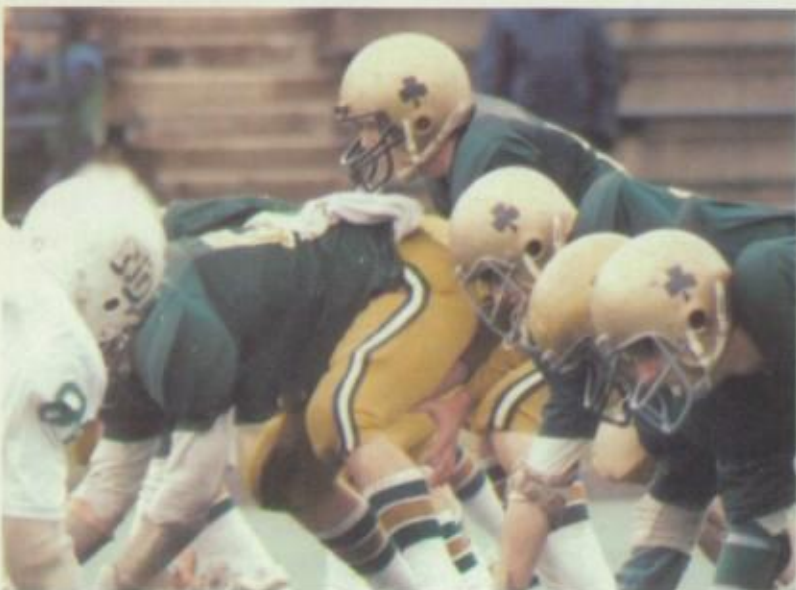

A few extra added attractions that highlighted the evening were: The DePaul Brass and String Ensemble providing the audience with a special song, and the Good Counsel Choir with its director, Mrs. Lou Marcin, singing Ave Maria.

ALWAYS FIGHTING

On Sunday, October 18, the true meaning of Shamrock determination was tested when the Varsity "Shamrocks" battled the "Dons" of Notre Dame. The action took place at Hanson Stadium. Although the score resulted in a tremendous victory for Notre Dame, the Shamrocks never stopped trying, for they scored two touchdowns to keep the excitement going. On this last day of Homecoming, the parade took place and the Parents' Club sponsored a "Sloppy Joe get-together" in the school cafeteria.

EXHIBITING PRIDE

The next day was for the annual parade in which the cars were colorfully decorated. The winners of the parade contest were: The National Honor Society, first place; the 1981-82 cheerleaders, second place; and a group of loyal students, third place. Each set of winners received $100, $50, and $25 respectively. Unfortunately enthusiasm in the parade wasn't as good as in past years.

SHOWING SPIRITED PARTICIPATION

This year, the Shamrocks filled their Homecoming week with many student council sponsored activities. Homecoming week opened with the celebration of Columbus Day. The next day brought us into the gym where the weight lifting contest took place. The freshmen competed against the sophomores and the juniors against the seniors. The winners of each group, the freshmen and seniors, competed against each other and, naturally, the seniors were the victor. Keeping with spirit on Wednesday, a Student/Faculty football game was played in which the faculty won hands down. The following day, Thursday, was proclaimed as grub day. Students were allowed to wear jeans, gym shoes, and special hats. Friday was called Green and Gold Day, where the students and faculty were encouraged to wear green and gold clothes. Friday night was the Semi-Formal held at Hecks Hall in the Monte Vista room. Matthew Polishak's date, Eileen, was named Homecoming Queen.

Involvement Generates Funds

On October 16 and 17, and April 2 and 3, the St. Patrick H.S. Parents' Club held its semi-annual Las Vegas night. This event included: poker, high stake poker, games, slot machines, Shamrock Park horse races, bingo, blackjack, and the raffle drive drawing. Faculty members, parents, and friends ran the games and served refreshments. Although students were not allowed to participate they helped by working in the coatroom and parking lot, running errands for workers, and encouraging their parents to come. The money raised went toward the installation of more efficient lighting for the school and the reduction of tuition.

The supervisors of the Las Vegas Nights were: Mr. Koutnik, co-ordinator-in-charge; Mr. Weaser, co-chairman of casino; Mrs. Bickel and Mr. Rock, finance; Mr. Giovenetti, bar operation; Mr. Love, blackjack; Mrs. Koutnik and Mrs. De La Mar entrance; Mr. and Mrs. Fontanetta, poker; Mr. Federico, racing; Mrs. Weaser, slot machines; Mrs. Talermini, food and refreshments; Mr. Glonski and Mr. Kramer, dice and craps operation; Mrs. Carpinelli, wheels, raffles and chances; and Mrs. Konor and Mr. Dati, bingo.

DRAC DOES DASTARDLY DEEDS

On October 30 and 31, the world premiere of the Summons of Dracula was performed. The play, written and directed by Mr. Jack Nelson with technical direction by Mr. Daniel Renner, was developed because he wanted to present this story with a fresh interpretation of an old theme. He used the classic theatrical style, in which the action takes place during one 24 hour period, but he kept all of Bram Stokers characters, events, and places with only the plot varying from the original.

There were several changes on the technical side of St. Pat's production, including the use of a fog machine for the entrances of the Nosferatu (the undead), and special lighting effects. The actors' contributions also added to the effectiveness of this first-run production. Dracula was played by James Gillespie on October 30 and by Aaron O'Brien on the 31st. Both performed as the butler on the other evening. The leading ladies, Michelle Chapuis and Rose Grammarosso of Mother Guering H.S. helped develop the spirit of fear which always surrounds the vampire.

Developing Spiritually

The senior retreat, unlike the underclass retreats wasn't mandatory; but it was coed. Our seniors, along with the girls from Nazareth H.S., enjoyed a two day vacation from the hustle and bustle of the city and school life to develop their spiritual side at the Christian Brothers' La Salle Manor in Plano. The retreat was a close personal experience in which the 25 seniors had an opportunity to express how they feel towards themselves and others. Aside from the serious thought they were able to physically relax by hiking, swimming and by playing football, tennis, basketball and indoor games.

BUILDING SPIRIT

The purpose of the Student Council sponsored spirit week was to recognize students in competitive events, regenerate the spirit of the students toward their school, and liven up the doldrums of the month of January. The Student Council planned events for each day from January 22, through the 29th. On Friday, January 22, the Student Council planned a hat day, which also marked the beginning of spirit week. On Tuesday, January 26, which was designated as a grub day, students were permitted to wear what they pleased. The day of recognition for the students in in-season competitive events was held on Wednesday, January 27, and featured an assembly, directed by Mr. Collins, which honored students involved in winter sports and clubs. On Thursday, January 28, two events were held, including a pie-eating contest, which was held during each homeroom period, and the Student vs. Faculty Basketball game, in which the faculty again romped the students for the 2nd time in 2 years. The final day of spirit week, Friday, January 29, which the Student Council designated as Green and Gold Day, saw enthusiastic Shamrocks wearing a bit of green and gold, to show their Shamrock pride and school spirit.

Over the Top Once Again

In keeping with tradition, this year's raffle drive, directed by Br. Nick Schumer, was a record breaking event. The total amount collected was $76,663.51 which equals 364.95% over quota. Once again Br. Thomas Dominic calculated and distributed the weekly results. The top selling homerooms from each department were: Mr. Collins' freshman homeroom 23 with a total of $2404.00 (960.4%), Bro. Richard's sophomore homeroom 309 with a total of $2404.00 (601.33%), Bro. Thomas Dominic's junior homeroom 302 with a total of $2275.50 (489.55%), and finally Mr. Kehoe's senior homeroom 310 with a total of $3055.00 (698.53%). Student support was very high, especially from; freshmen J. Polishak with $799, sophomore Chris Cianciola with $479, junior Nick Howard $799 and top student seller senior Rick Wilkens with $800. The winners of the drawing were chosen at the first Las Vegas Night. The $1000 prize went to Katherine Manis whose winning ticket was sold by Louis Manis (H.R. 301). The $500 prizes were won by 2nd place winner Paul Rybski and 3rd place winner Melissa Taggart whose winning tickets were sold by Robert Petzold (H.R. 23) and Steve Olandese (H.R. 310). Special recognition went to Mr. Collins on winning his 4th Raffle drive (a school record) and to his freshmen H.R. 23, the top sellers in the school.

E

Developing the Spiritual Side

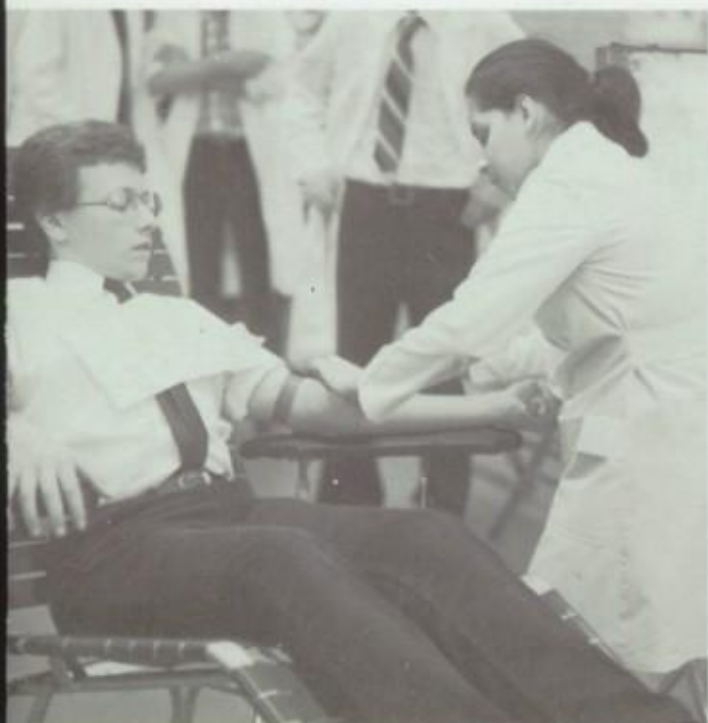

The freshmen and sophomores were required to attend their retreat which was one day long. At Cabrini Contact Center, which is located in Des Plaines, Illinois, they became involved in both small and large group activities. The purpose of the retreat was for the students to get in touch with themselves and God by getting away from routine for a day. By assisting at mass, praying and joining in on a reconciliation session, students returned to St. Pat's a little more aware of themselves and their developing relationships.

All juniors had attended their overnight retreat at LaSalle Manor in Plano Illinois, where they had time to, see where God is in their life and what direction they were headed. Breaking into groups, they discussed their ideas and feelings on events in their lives. With the help of Br. David Galinski, every junior was able to avail of this opportunity and develop the ability to meditate on his life decisions.

Giving of Oneself

The Medical Careers Club held its 8th annual Blood Drive on March 12th. With the help of many donors this year's total reached 264 pints, a new record, exceeding last year's record of 246 pints donated. In the past 8 years, St. Patrick has collected a total of 1,535 units. Shamrocks who were unable to give blood brought cookies for the donors, and orange juice was contributed by McDonald's. The Student Council contributed the financial support, while the cafeteria ladies gave coffee, cups, cream and a lunch for the workers. This year's Blood Drive, which was organized by senior Harold Grant and coordinated by moderator Mr. Welker, achieved great success because of the efforts of the entire St. Patrick community.

Celebrating Unity

On March 31 at 7:30 pm the class of 1983 received their symbol of class unity, the St. Patrick's ring. The rings were blessed and distributed at a mass celebrated by Father Patrick Cecil of St. Angela's parish. Almost all of the juniors were present to participate in the ceremony and even more people attended than had been expected. Members of the class and faculty enhanced the ceremony by taking part in it as lectors, musicians, commentators, and servers. After the mass the juniors and their guests adjourned to the cafeteria where the Parent's club served refreshments. The evening was organized by the junior class moderator, Mr. Daniel Renner, in cooperation with Mr. Terrence Timm, who prepared the liturgy.

A Night at the Royale

This year's junior prom was held at Casa Royale in Franklin Park on April 23, 1982 the theme of which was "just between you and me." The musical portion of the prom was provided by Unity because of their sterling performance at last year's dance. The prom's success was due mainly to the organizational efforts of junior moderator Mr. Daniel Renner and junior class chairman Aaron O'Brien. As a result, all left with even greater expectations for next year's senior prom.

Spring Brings Shakespeare

As has become the tradition, the St. Patrick Thespian Society performed a Shakespearean play for spring. This year's performance was the comedy, "A Midsummer Night's Dream", directed by Mr. Jack Nelson. The play included a complicated theme which included characters ranging from lovers to the king of the unknown. Originally scheduled to be performed outdoors in the student courtyard, the play had to be moved indoors because of inclement weather. Actors for the play were picked from St. Pat's, and the girls were chosen from the various high schools for girls. Also announced for the first time this year were the Best Actor, Best Supporting Actor, and Best Actress awards sponsored by the Thespian Society. Receiving the award for Best Actor were Anthony Rzany and James Gillespie. Best Supporting Actor was Scott Oken and Best Actress was Michelle Chapuis.

Heralds of Spring

On Sunday, May 2, 1982, the Spring Concert, fittingly titled "The Sounds of Spring," was held at Wright Junior College. Directed by Mr. Tom Robaczewski, the chorus combined many modern musical themes ("They're Playing My Song" and two numbers from "The Man of La Mancha") with many contemporary songs as well as a few traditional numbers. As in the winter concert, St. Pat's was joined by the Good Counsel Chorus which performed a few, well rounded numbers of its own under the baton of Ms. Marson. The first half of the concert was also highlighted by a barbershop quartet, a "Scarborough Fair" ensemble, and a special solo performance by Jim Gillespie, while Good Counsel performed a "Boogie-Woogie Bugle Boy" number. The second half was a performance by the combined choruses of both schools which was well received by the near capacity crowd.

Intramurals Provide:

Starting during the month of September, the intramural program operated during the homeroom periods until early May. Mr. William Sienkiewicz directed the frosh-soph program, while Mr. Emmet McGovern coordinated the junior-senior contests. Football was the game during the first third of the year, followed closely by basketball and then floor hockey, which was finalized in May. Many enjoyable and intense games transpired during the course of the three seasons and the spirit of competition was strong. The efforts of the coordinators and the student refs enabled all to thoroughly enjoy this extra physical activity during the mid-day break.

Entering the Ranks of the Honored

On May 23, at 2:00 P.M., The National Honor Societies once again held their annual Induction Ceremony. The specially designed ceremony honored a select group of inductees into the nationally acclaimed organization. After President Mark Kotsios explained the purpose of the Honor Society and its function in the school, he went on to explain the 4 qualities: Scholarship, Leadership, Service, and Character, which were required of each member. Vice-President Victor Fontanetta began the candle lighting presentation, where each member was able to light a candle to symbolize his membership in the Society. Mark Kotsios then administered the Honor Society oath and called upon William Stanczykiewicz, last year's President, to speak to the inductees. Following Br. Neil Kieffe's speech, which emphasized the importance of the members existence, there was a brief reception for everyone.

Seniors Honored

The annual Senior Awards Assembly, held on May 17th, honored those students for their outstanding accomplishments in different areas of interest. The Merit Awards, sponsored and presented by the S.P.H.S. National Honor Society, were awarded to those students who gave evidence of remarkable achievement in one or more specific categories. The Merit Award itself, a specially designed Shadowbox Plaque, was presented only if there was a student candidate within an interest category who met and surpassed the rigid criteria established for that category.

In order to graduate with honors, a very prestigious award, a student must have maintained a GPA of 4.00 (A) or better through the 2nd semester of his senior year. The Bausch and Lomb Science Award was presented to the senior who showed outstanding work in his science courses and planned to further his educational career in the field of science. The Alumni Association Awards, Scholarship, Loyalty, Athletics, and Extra-Curricular, decided upon by the faculty, were also presented to those deserving students. The annual Mark Q. Cummings Award was given to the student who overcame personal, financial, and / or family difficulties while best typifying the spirit of the late Mark Q. Cummings. The John M. McCormack Memorial Scholarship Award was awarded to the senior who had to pay his own way through high school while still maintaining a 3.00 (B) or better.

Completing the Fina

The 121st Commencement exercises of St. Patrick were the beginning of a new tradition as the graduation took place at the Auditorium Theatre on May 30, 1982 at 10:00 A.M. While the processional was played by Mr. Thomas Robaczewski, the new choral director, the 1982 graduates and the faculty marched into the Auditorium. Following the Invocation, administered by Br. David Galinski, F.S.C., Mr. Presslak, Senior Co-Moderator, welcomed the graduates and their guests and awarded the honored graduates, who had been previously presented with their awards at the Senior Awards Assembly. Brother Patrick O'Neill, FSC: Teacher, Principal, Friend

Brother Patrick O'Neill passed to his eternal reward on Memorial Day, May 31, 1982, victim of a heart attack. How shall we best remember Brother Patrick? Probably, he will be most typically remembered standing in the main lobby of the school chatting with his students after each dismissal. Every day he was there; so much so, that when he was not (which was very rarely), it was obvious that something was out of the ordinary. Day after day, he was there, clarifying assignments for his students or just talking with them about anything.

Brother Patrick spent 24 of his 34 years as a Christian Brother at St. Patrick H.S./Chicago. Here, Brother was a teacher, National Honor Society Moderator, Yearbook Advisor, Sociedad Honoraria Hispánica Sponsor, Chairman of the Modern Language Department, Member of the Admissions Committee, and Director of the Freshman Placement Program. This list could go on and on, for few realize all the little odd jobs that Brother assumed unpretentiously. Whatever job Brother Pat undertook had a professional look about it. All the SPSHS recruiting materials for the past 8 years were designed by him and some have been copied by other schools. The new SPSHS logo, introduced in 1981, was designed by him.

Brother's other teaching assignments included: DeLaSalle H.S., Minneapolis (1952-1956), LaSalle H.S., Cincinnati (1961-1962), St. Francis H.S., Wheaton (1962-1963). Teacher, Principal, Friend . . . The entire St. Patrick community of students, parents, graduates, lay faculty and Christian Brothers will sorely miss him.

Pat is most remembered standing in his habit talking to students in the lobby after school. Center Right: While preparing his class, Brother Pat sits where he was most at home, the classroom. Bottom: At last year's Spanish Honor Society induction, Br. Patrick congratulates a student and hands him his award.

Expanding Creativity

The Art Club met every Tuesday morning before school, drawing membership from the art classes and the school at large. It created an original Christmas card which was sent to all students' families; designed a poster for the Summons of Dracula; sponsored two art contests (the third annual) one for art students, and one for non-art students. One student, representing the Belmont Bicycle Club, challenged the group to design a new jersey. Coming through with flying colors, the Art Club produced a striking green and black shirt.

Check-Mate

Although an IHSA approved sport, chess at our school was considered a club, whose members competed for a place on the team. Those on the team played against other schools in the same conference, the Chicago High School Chess Conference. Regular season games were played from November to March, while state tournaments were held in April. The state tournaments included individual games for people with an outstanding season record. The team consisted of five club members, each at a numbered board. The club met officially after school on Mondays and Tuesdays and many used the remainder of the week for practice.

Although most people associate the chorus only with concerts, a lot more was actually involved. A regular schedule was followed every week from the beginning of the school year with each group, either tenor or bass, meeting at least three times a week in the morning for about an hour. As the concert drew closer, the practices became daily with the chorus practicing during Christmas and Spring vacation breaks. On some days, the chorus practiced before school as a unit and after school with the Good Council chorus as joint performances approached. Directed by Mr. Thomas Robaczewski, the concert chorus performed both Spring and Christmas concerts at Wright Junior College in conjunction with the Good Council chorus. The chorus also joined in for the concerts at Good Council.

After sustaining a complete renovation of the editorial and advisory staffs, the Green & Gold tremendously developed from an inexperienced group to a knowledgeable organization throughout the '82 school year. The Green & Gold staff diligently produced eight successful issues with the latest of news, sports, features, pictures, and cartoons. They constantly strove to report the exceptional achievements of St. Patrick students. Much credit is due to Editor-In-Chief, John Cichon, who proficiently organized and directed the year's publications to achieve this goal, under the supervision of moderator Mr. James Lithgow.

Language Clubs Enhance

Some of St. Pat's clubs are designed to reinforce classroom activities. Among these are the three language clubs: the Francisco Febres Cordero Chapter of the Spanish Honor Society, guided by Br. Patrick O'Neill; the Deutsch Klub, moderated by Mr. John Stark; and the French Club moderated by Mrs. Schnell. These clubs attempted to increase student interest and awareness of the cultures and societies of the different countries. The groups participated in field trips to movies and restaurants throughout the year for further exposures to their target languages. In addition, the clubs sponsored the International Food Fest and the Language Film Festival.

Honor Students

By awarding membership in the National Honor Society to only a very small percentage of its students, St. Patrick publicly recognizes outstanding scholarship, leadership, character, and exceptional service to the school. For membership, the NHS expects: a continued classroom excellence; leadership, where appropriate; personal growth and development; and a responsibility to serve the school.

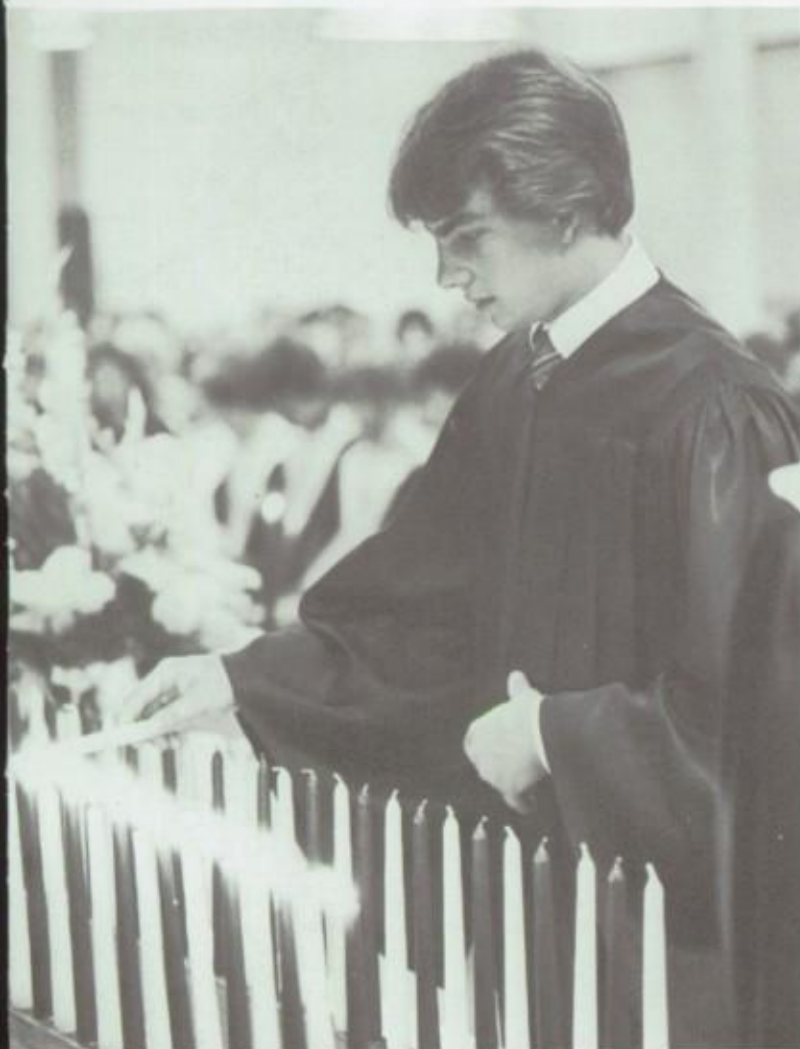

Among other basic requirements, members must reach and maintain a minimum of a 3.00 (B) grade point average, extensive involvement in at least one formally recognized extra-curricular activity, and faithful attendance at the weekly Wednesday meetings throughout the school year.

The NJHS/NHS did many things to aid in the daily operation of the school. Members substituted; they tutored academically deficient students; they presented the Merit Awards and The Mark Q. Cummings Award; — continued on next page they held their own Christmas feast; they sponsored the Mini-Course Week; and they presented a Careers Night for the entire school. In addition, they also sponsored "members only" social activities with the neighboring girls' high schools. The Math Club, an organization for students who wished to develop advanced math concepts was moderated by Mr. Richard Muller. Meeting on Tuesday's and Wednesday's, the members worked on a variety of problems to prepare the students for various state and national tests. These tests included The Illinois Math League Test (ILML), The Atlantic Pacific Math League (ATPAC), and the Annual National High School Math Exam (MAA). This year in The MAA, Dave Yankee and Steve Schmidt tied for first in the school and Paul Iacopetti came in third. The club as a whole ranked 5th in the Archdiocesan Math Contest and 4th in the city.

Expanding Medical Awareness

The Medical Careers Club was an organization whose main purpose was to inform potential medical students about the available careers. This was accomplished through a series of lectures given by individuals in the medical profession.

The main event sponsored by the Medical Careers Club was its annual blood drive. This was introduced to the student body through the second annual blood drive assembly. A number of celebrity guests were on hand for the star studded occasion including: The Blues Brothers, Woody Allan, Orson Welles, and of course, Jim "Angel Darling" Turano. The efforts put forth by these and many others resulted in a record drive with 264 units of blood collected.

Aiding Growth Through Time and Effort

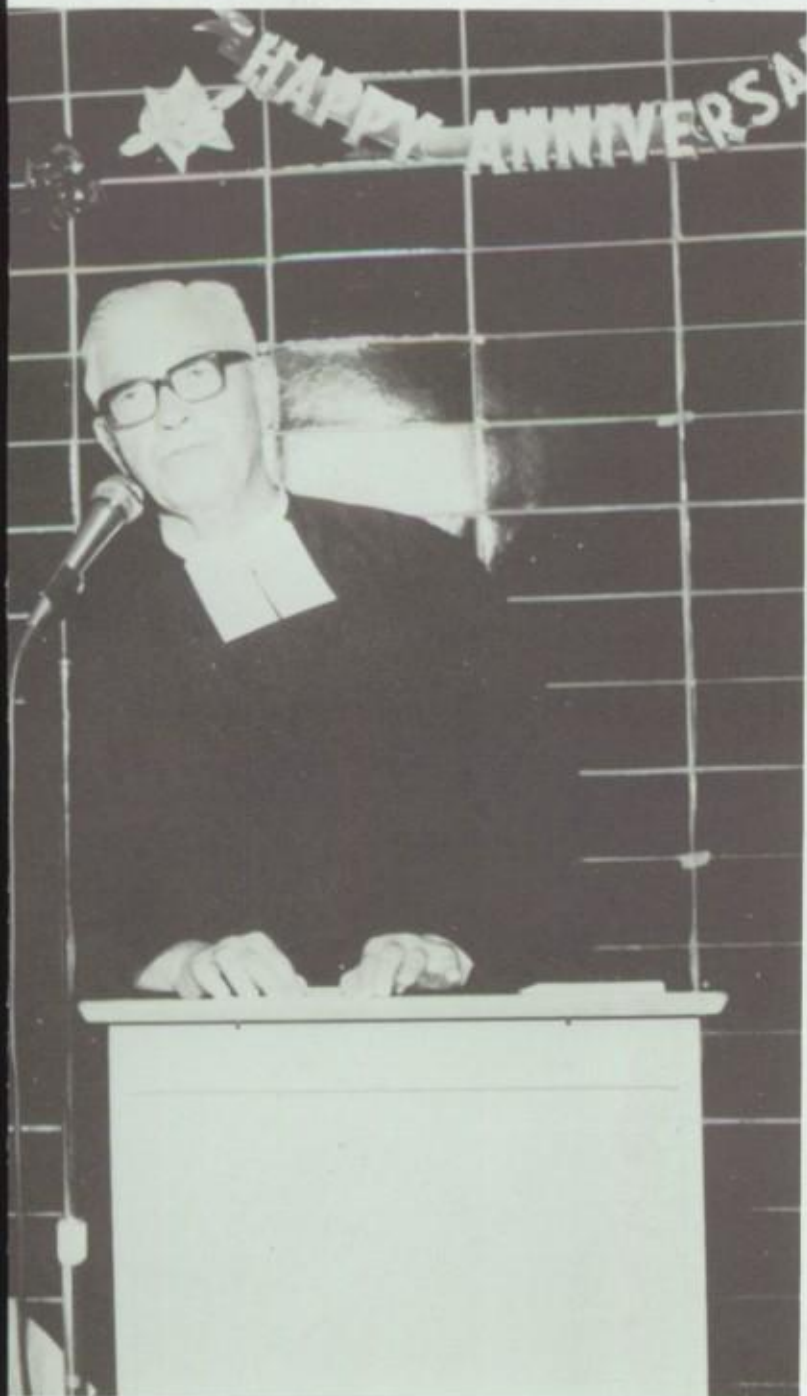

The parents' club, one of St. Patrick's largest organizations, continued to be one of the most hard-working groups. Through continued support it sponsored many of our money-making events. These included: Tuesday Night Bingo, The Corned Beef and Cabbage Dinner held on March 5, Las Vegas Nights held on October 16 and 17, and April 2 and 3, and The St. Valentines' Day Party. Funds raised by these events went towards school equipment and reducing the tuition. The club met every 2nd Wednesday of the month to organize these and other events: the incoming freshman Mother-Son Breakfast; Frosh-Soph Parent Tours, Open Houses, The Junior Ring Mass, and the Senior Graduation Mass. Other money went into the Parents' Club Assurance program where, if the breadwinner in the family dies, the Parents' Club will pay the tuition of that student's remaining years at St. Pats. The club's officers were: President, George De Lamar; 1st Vice President, Sam Costa; 2nd Vice President, Chuck Pichla; Recording Secretary, Bunchie Okrasinski; Treasurer, Delia Lawlor. Board of Directors were Membership Chairpersons, Mrs. Lauter and Mrs. Schreiber; Publicity Chairpersons, Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. Yankee; Courtesy Chairperson, Mrs. Fontanetta; Las Vegas Nights I and II, Mr. Wieser and Mr. Koutnik; Parish Rep. Chairperson, Mrs. Bickel, and Club Custodian, Mr. Giovanetti and finally the Class Representatives: Freshman, Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers; Sophomore, Mr. and Mrs. Murawski; Junior, Mr. and Mrs. Delamar; Senior, Mr. and Mrs. Troxell.

On Sat., May 22, Bro. John Michael, FSC, celebrated his Golden Jubilee in St. Ferdinand Chapel, marking his 50 years of service and education to young people. Mass in the St. Ferdinand facility was celebrated by Rev. John Dolehide, O.P., a former pupil of Bro. John. Following the mass, a reception and dinner was held at St. Patrick High School.

Bro. John entered the Christian Brothers Novitiate at Glenco, Missouri, in 1931, and made his final profession of vows at the Brothers retreat house on Beaver Island, Michigan. Brother holds degrees from De Paul University and Northwestern University. In addition, he attended Armour Tech, Loyola Univ. of Chicago, the University of Chicago, and Memphis State University. Brother's previous assignments were in Chicago, Evanston, Westchester (IL), San Francisco, Winona (MN), and Memphis (TN). Currently, Bro. John is in the Business Department at St. Pat's teaching typing.

Getting The Picture

The Photographic Services Organization, also known as the Photography Club, was just what the name implies. It provided the service of photographs for the Shamrock, the Green and Gold, the Administration, the Athletic Department, for recruiting, and for local press releases. Members learned not only how to take pictures, but also how cameras work, the elements of good composition, the rule of thirds, leading lines, how to avoid mergers, and how to develop the film and print the pictures. At the end of the 12 week course conducted by the moderator, Br. John Blease, successful members were awarded the Young Photographers' League membership card presented by the Eastman Kodak Company. The members used their newly acquired knowledge to photograph all SPHS activities including athletic contests, choral concerts, dramatic productions and many other St. Patrick events.

Campaign For Life

Considering the problems of abortion in our society, the Right-To Life Club met Mondays after school to combat the abortion problem in the Chicagoland area. Under the supervision of Br. David Pieters, the club stands for the protection of human life from conception until natural death. Maintaining that abortion is a concern because it deprives the unborn child of its Right-to Life, the club attempted to educate and inform the St. Pat's community of the dangers of abortion, Euthanasia and other violations of human rights.

Student Council

The Student Council was active the entire year. The year was kicked off with a roller skating party and a second was cancelled due to weather. They also co-ordinated the annual Homecoming Week events which included: a Shamrock Pride Day, a grub day, the annual student/faculty football games, a weightlifting contest, and the semi-formal dance which was held in the Monte Vista Room of Heck's Banquet Hall. The week was finished by a Homecoming Parade down Central to Hanson Stadium where prizes were awarded and the queen and her court were introduced.

Later in November, Jeff Davis, a WLS D.J., hosted the St. Pat's Top Ten Countdown and played a variety of rock music. During Spirit Week, the Student Council honored all students who participated in the winter sports and also gave tribute to the efforts of the Math and Chess Clubs. During that week, there were many other events which included: a hat day, a grub day, a Green and Gold dress up day, and a pie eating contest. The week ended with the student/faculty basketball game.

Another major second semester event was the rock band concert, featuring the Kind and the back-up band Majesty. By obtaining video games and locating them in the cafeteria, the Student Council hoped to better its financial position in order to support other events. Meeting after school, the officers: President Rick Wilkens, Vice-President Scott Schubert, Secretary Pat Wise, Treasurer John Cichon, Senior Class Chairman Matt Amato, Junior Class Chairman Aaron O'Brien, and Sophomore Class Chairman Peter Kakridas, outlined and deliberated over these plans. Guided throughout the year by Br. John Vietoris and Mr. William Sienkiewicz, the Student Council wrapped up the year by sponsoring a trip to Great America.

Theatrical Extravaganzas

St. Pat's own troupe 1279 of the International Thespian Society once again enchanted us with its theatrical extravaganzas this year.

The opening presentation was a world premiere play "The Summons of Dracula", which was written by the troupe sponsor, Jack P. Nelson. The play, a unique variation of the traditional Dracula theme, involved young characters, which made it ideal for a high school performance. The play was performed on Halloween weekend with a special performance given to 8th graders from area grammar schools.

The Thespian Society, an honorary organization which inducted students after they had earned the required number of credit points for work on plays, either in cast or stagecrew, inducted 6 new members into the troupe.

The grand finale was a presentation of Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream". Originally intended to be a courtyard performance, the spring production was moved indoors at short notice when threatened by rain; shrubs and flowers were brought in from everywhere to transform the stage into a very convincing forest setting.

Understanding Advancements In Technology

The T. V. Club, moderated by Mr. Paul Quinn, has been in existence for over 20 years. The members expressed interests in closed-circuit T. V. and broadcasting. The purpose for this club was to videotape both home and away basketball games along with wrestling matches. These tapes were played back so the team could look at their performance. During weekly meetings, the club expanded and developed the closed-circuit system.

Under the direction of Mr. James Lithgow, supervisor of production, and Br. John Blease, supervisor of photography, the yearbook staff met daily to put together this edition of the St. Patrick Shamrock. Editor-in-Chief Vic Fontanetta, Assistant Editor James Young, and the rest of the staff designed the book into 7 sections: Beginning, Organizations, Events, Sports, Academics, People, and Closing. The staff and the advisors reported on the school events, wrote articles, and worked with photographs to pictorially present the history of St. Patrick — 1982 edition.

Prior to laying out the 1982 edition, the staff had to decide on a theme that would be effectively carried out through the entire book. This year's theme was the idea of a dictionary. The Beginning section, entitled A School With Meaning, explained why our school is different from others. The dictionary theme was carried out in this manner: the staff designed the divider pages to resemble pages in a dictionary, strongly emphasizing the particular word that described that section. Also, each page was tab indexed, and the Table of Contents along with the Title page resembled their respective parts of a dictionary.

Dedicated Professionals

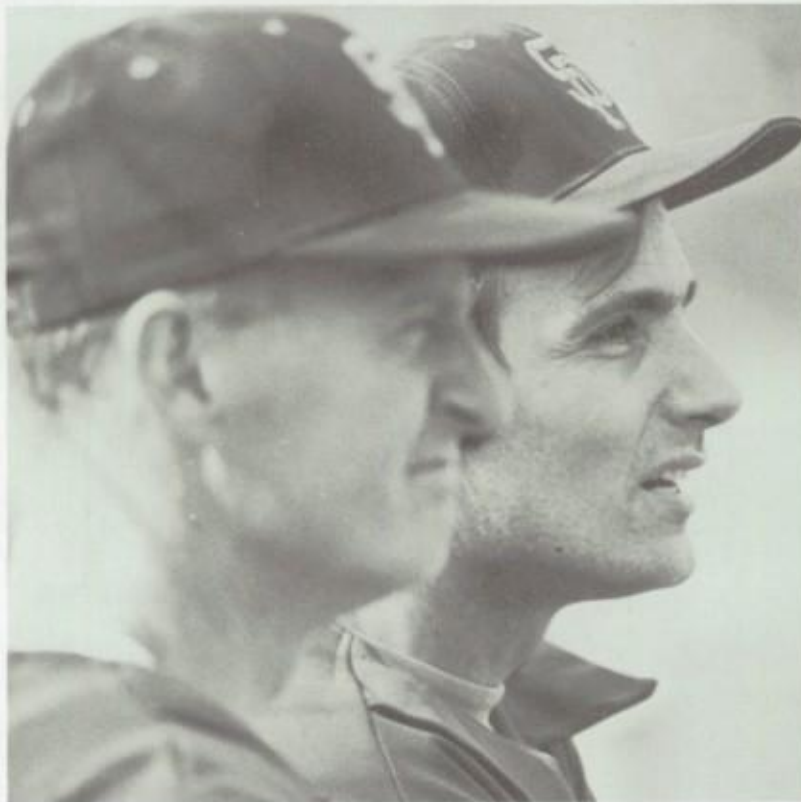

Among the St. Pat's stalwarts one finds a group of dedicated professionals which expends much time and effort devoted to the task of guiding their charges through the maze of adolescence to reach the goal of manhood. Stressing the principles of loyalty, teamwork, responsibility, manliness and good sportsmanship, these specialists daily work with the teams which they coach hoping to achieve these goals, naturally, with the intention of winning games, meets or matches, these ultimate goals of an athletic program are ever in their vision. Constantly training, encouraging, chiding or congratulating their athletes, they share in each success or failure, each win or loss and each personal achievement or injury. Without the constant, untiring and selfless devotion of these mentors, the athletic program, and the pages which follow in this book, would not be possible.

Strength Breeds Success

After a good season last year, with a record of 8-4, the Shamrocks again equalled that record this year. The Shamrocks had a fine season with some great individual performances. Pitching for the Shamrocks this year were: John Cracchiolo, Dave Hasto, Vince Dentamara, Mike Campanaro, Jim Gutt, and rounding out the staff was Pat Minogue. Behind the plate was 3 yr. starter Jim Turano; at first base was John Kleczynski, who was considered a strong asset. At second was Greg Militello; at short was Scott Carpinelli, a 2 year veteran, and at third was Vince Dentamara.

The infield was not the only place where talent roamed; the outfield contained quality players: Carlos Artiles, John Cracchiolo, Pat Minogue, and Pat Nagle, who led the team in hitting with an average of well over .400. The highlights of the season were most probably the victories over Marist and the state playoff victory over Gordon.

This year's Sophomore baseball team became the first St. Pats team to win a conference title since the sport was started here in 1975. Overall record was 17-5; their conference mark was 10-2. The team was stacked with talent and had a spirit that just wouldn't quit, according to Mr. Buscarini, the Soph. coach. He listed the most important team assets as: good pitching, excellent speed, solid hitting, and the versatility of the players. The Shamrocks were the only team in the conference to defeat all the other teams. Believing that all games were equally important, the players exhibited great determination and effort under the leadership of honorary captain Keith Bunkenburg and MVP Tony Zaffaro.

Strong Contenders

The '82 freshmen baseball team finished the year with an overall record of 15-13, and a conference record of 4-8. Although the record may look outstanding, they made an impressive showing of themselves. It is generally believed that offensively, they were probably our best freshman players ever — never getting less than 7 hits per game. Most of their mistakes on defense were mental mistakes that will disappear as the team matures. Mr. Presslak, frosh coach, stressed the need for fundamentals with the hope of building string contenders for the championship.

Predicted to finish the season with a record below .500, and a not too impressive third place finish in conference, the Shamrocks stunned the public as well as its fans by posting a 17-10 overall record and finishing second in conference (only behind St. Joe's) with a 9-3 record. The squad faced one of the toughest schedules seen recently as many opponents were highly ranked in the area as well as in the state (Westinghouse, Thorton, Gordon Tech, St. Joes, Benet, and Leyden). The Shamrocks provided an exciting season, as almost every loss was decided by only a few points.

Successful Second

The prime example, of course, was the Shamrock battle against St. Joe's resulting in a 44-42 loss. In the Carbondale tourney, the Shamrocks lost its first game against Murphysboro, but went on to win their next 3 games against Bartonville-Limestone, Champaign Centennial, and then Maine East, winning the consolation trophy. They also placed third in the Thanksgiving Tourney and second in the regional standings. During the season coach Max Kurland posted his 475th career victory and his 600th game. Leading the Shamrocks this season were co-captains, Brian Bunkenburg (281 pts.) and Len Bertolini (508 pts.), Jim Gutt (261 pts.), Dale Rozek (147 pts.), and Mike Campanaro (59 pts.), with help from Bob Nichol (soph., 151 pts.), Pat Boyle (46 pts.), and Terry Johnson (80 pts.).

Super Sophs Take First

Headed by Mr. Peter Willert, this year's "super-sophs" stunned everyone by posting a 20-2 record and easily grabbing first place in conference (11-1). The sophomores were undefeated going into the last two games of the season, but misfortune struck as the team dropped two heartbreaking games to Benet (51-49) and Marist (45-41). In his first year as a sophomore coach, Mr. Willert truly did a fine job and in the same effort greatly improved his overall record. Providing the excitement for the super-sophs this year were Keith Bunkenburg, Joe Johnson, Brian Devlin, Roger Ernst, and Rich Sopek with Lloyd Manning, Tony Zaffaro, Mike Neville, and John Puetz helping from the bench. The sophomores amassed a total of 653 pts. compared to 473 earned by their opponents.

Height and Talent Contribute to Success

The freshman team coached by Mr. Zimmerman and Mr. McGovern, enjoyed an 8-4 conference record as well as a third place finish. In tournaments, the Shamrocks placed 1st in the Weber Tournament and walked away with a 2nd place consolation in the Loyola Tournament.

With help from key players, Brian Walsh, Finbarr Deely, and Terry Murphy, the Shamrocks highlighted the season by beating Gordon Tech at home by 12 points after having lost to them in the Loyola Tournament two months previously. The team's height was a definite asset which contributed to their successful season.

Accepting only half of the 58 harriers who tried out, some new life entered into the 1981-82 squad with new team members and a new attitude. Though scored separately, the frosh-soph meets were held concurrently with the varsity, while fros-soph workouts usually occurred with the varsity practices. In the first two meets against Notre Dame and Ridgewood, the long distance runners finished ninth and first respectively. In the invitational department, facing as many as 40 teams in a single meet, the team finished in the upper half. (continued on pg. 71)

Despite Spirit and Determination

Again this year, St. Pat's football team was plagued with injuries and misfortunes bringing its record to a disappointing 1-13. Injuries to key starters forced major line-up changes, which prevented a set squad from forming together.

A tough schedule also hampered the team as four of their six games were against teams ranked among the top twenty in the state. Even though the team's record was not impressive, its spirit and determination throughout the season showed character and maturity, while their desire for victory gave the fans many exciting games during the season.

An impressive Shamrock victory (13-3) over St. Joseph's in the final game of the season enabled the team to display this spirit in a strong win.

Close, but No Cigar

The sophomores finished 6th in the East Suburban League. Many of those who would have started on the sophomore team, played on the varsity level. In spite of this loss of good players, many times the team had close games and these were all lost by less than 7 pts. Coaches Walsh and Egan guided the team through a persistently optimistic season, with the aid of M.V.P.'s Larry Schultz and Bob Glascott.

Conference 5-1
Over-All 5-2-1

The freshman team showed much effort and achieved great success by posting a 5-2-1 record and tying for the first place in the conference. The teams strength was its defense; MVP Willie Love and teammates shut out 4 of the 9 opponents that they faced. Much of their success can be attributed to Coach Jeff Troxell and Coach Kehoe for their outstanding contributions to the team throughout the season.

The Varsity Golf team, coached by Tom Hayes, just couldn't grasp enough pars to steal a victory from their fighting opponents. Although the Varsity golfers never seemed to taste a victory, they were close several times, never losing their desire to win. On the otherhand, the frosh-soph team played up-to-par, by recording a 5-8 season record.

With the exception of the Fenton Invitational and the Districts, which were strictly for the Varsity, both teams played against the same opponents in regular season play. The home matches, played during the week and after school, were held at Rob Roy Golf Course in Mount Prospect. Wins were recorded in this manner:

Setting a New Record

Starting off the season by winning their own relays, the tankman had high expectations for the season. However, defections from the squad caused a lack of depth that made it difficult to adequately compete against the stronger teams later in the season. The majority of wins occurred in the first half, though several occurred later. The stalwart 9 swimmers and 2 divers swam thousands of yards daily to prepare for each meet. Some of their efforts finally paid off in the District Championship when Scott Kish, Mike Rocco, Marty Gibson, and Jim Moyer drowned the previous Pat's record for the 400 Freestyle Relay.

Seniors Bob Reich and Tom Latourette compiled the best percentage in Conference play, each having a 3-3 record. Overall the team racked up 5 wins and suffered 6 defeats.

With the departure of Brother Tom Dupre, newly arrived Coach John Hammond from DeLaSalle took control of the St. Patrick High School's Track team. An experienced track coach of 8 years, Coach Hammond was able to rally the Varsity team, after the beginning season's losses, to place second in the East Suburban Conference for the 1982 season. This was the first time in many years the St. Patrick's Varsity Track team had placed second in conference.

Cleverly using unorthodox coaching methods, Coach Hammond molded a record-breaking team. One Varsity record, the mile relay at 3:31.5 was broken by Romel Aranas, Willie Medina, Vic Revolinlki, and Rob Nevera.

Another Varsity record, the high jump at 6' 23/4", was broken by senior J. Cronin. Rob Nevera and Denny Correa overcoming faulty equipment vaulted expertly in conference. The Varsity Two-Mile relay team, (Romel Aranas, Rob Nevera, Mel Stone and anchorman Willie Medina), who placed second in the conference, and also missed the school record by only two seconds, had a good chance for qualifying for state.

Talent Brings No Glory

Another new arrival, Mr. Walter Lourie, did a fantastic job as Assistant Track Coach. Only his first year and a newcomer to the sport of track, Mr. Lourie showed many talents in handling the sophomores and developing a well-rounded freshman team. A swift Sophomore mile-relay team (Jim Corcoran, Bob Wendell, Joe Laluya and Romel Aranas) broke the mile relay at 3:41.4. Shattering the Frosh-Soph Two Mile relay record by 26 seconds, Ray Clifford, Romel Aranas, Mel Stone, and Bob Wendell set a new record of 8:41.9. A superb runner, Romel Aranas, set a new record for the 400 at 51.6 seconds, (cont. pg. 85)

State Competition — 9th

Dedication and determination brought the varsity water polo team to conclude a .500 regular season record. The lack of time for weights and improvement caused a slump in the early portion of the season. Later, even with the absence of depth, the positive attitude and strong offensive and defensive plays generated a five game winning streak. Much of the success was due to efforts of MVP Marty Gibson, who was only the second player in St. Pat's history to attain a place on the Illinois State Water Polo team. Coaches Glorioso and Murphy assisted the inexperienced team to finish ninth in state and complete a 7-7 season record.

TURNAROUND

Lack of experience held disadvantages in the beginning of the year, but did not stop the junior varsity from performing decisive plays. Even with the lack of good swimmers and strength, the junior varsity improved abilities by practicing with the varsity. The disorganization of the early games diminished as familiarity with the plays enabled the squad to conclude the year by winning the final six games. This was accomplished with help from freshmen John Wallace and Dan O'Connor and sophomore Larry Kunkel. Coached by Mr. Brian Glorioso, the team was able to complete the season with a 7-5 record by eventually learning how to play as a single unit.

Tough Competition

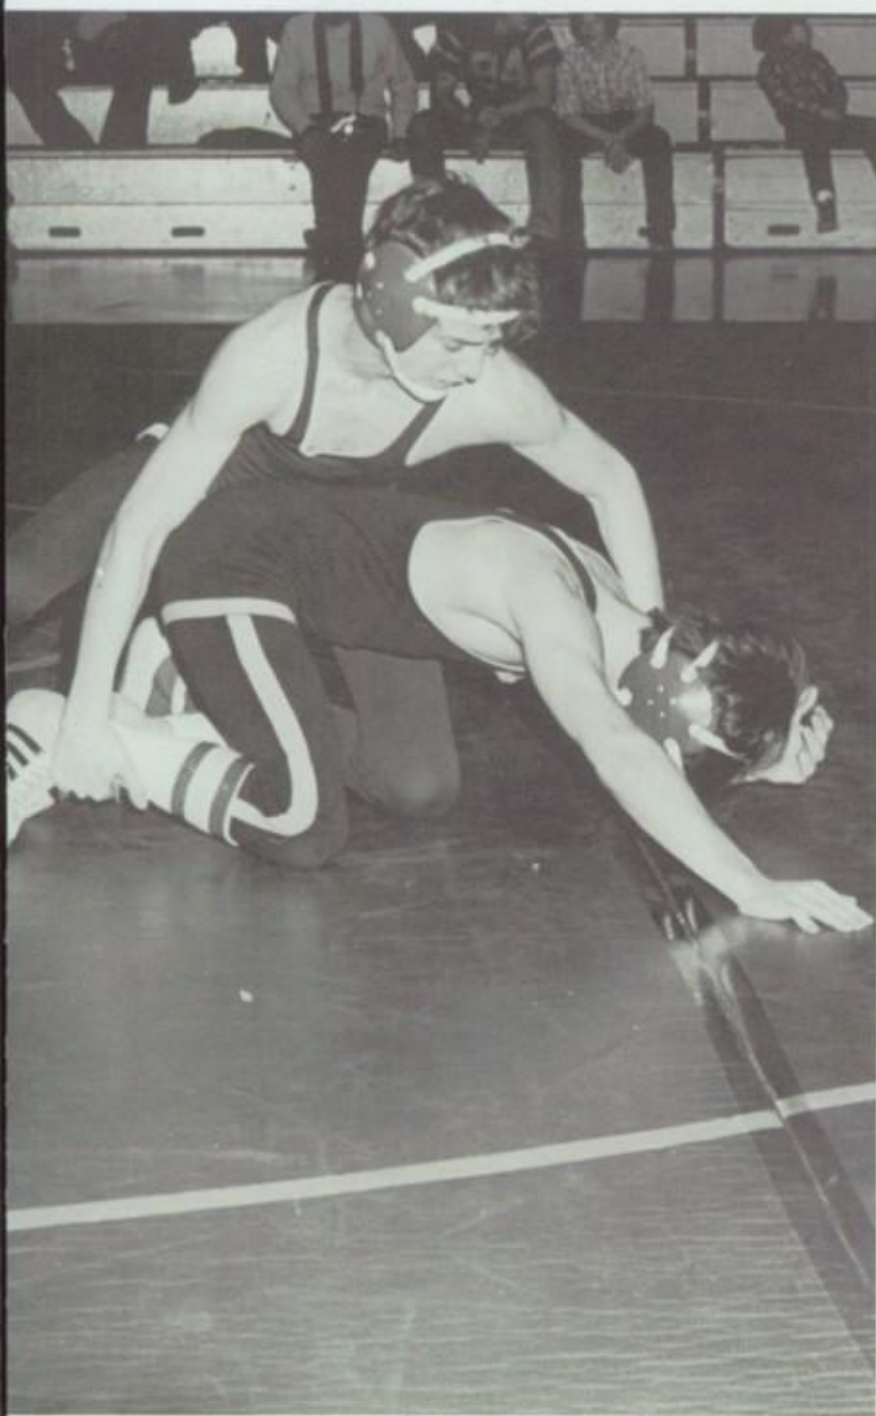

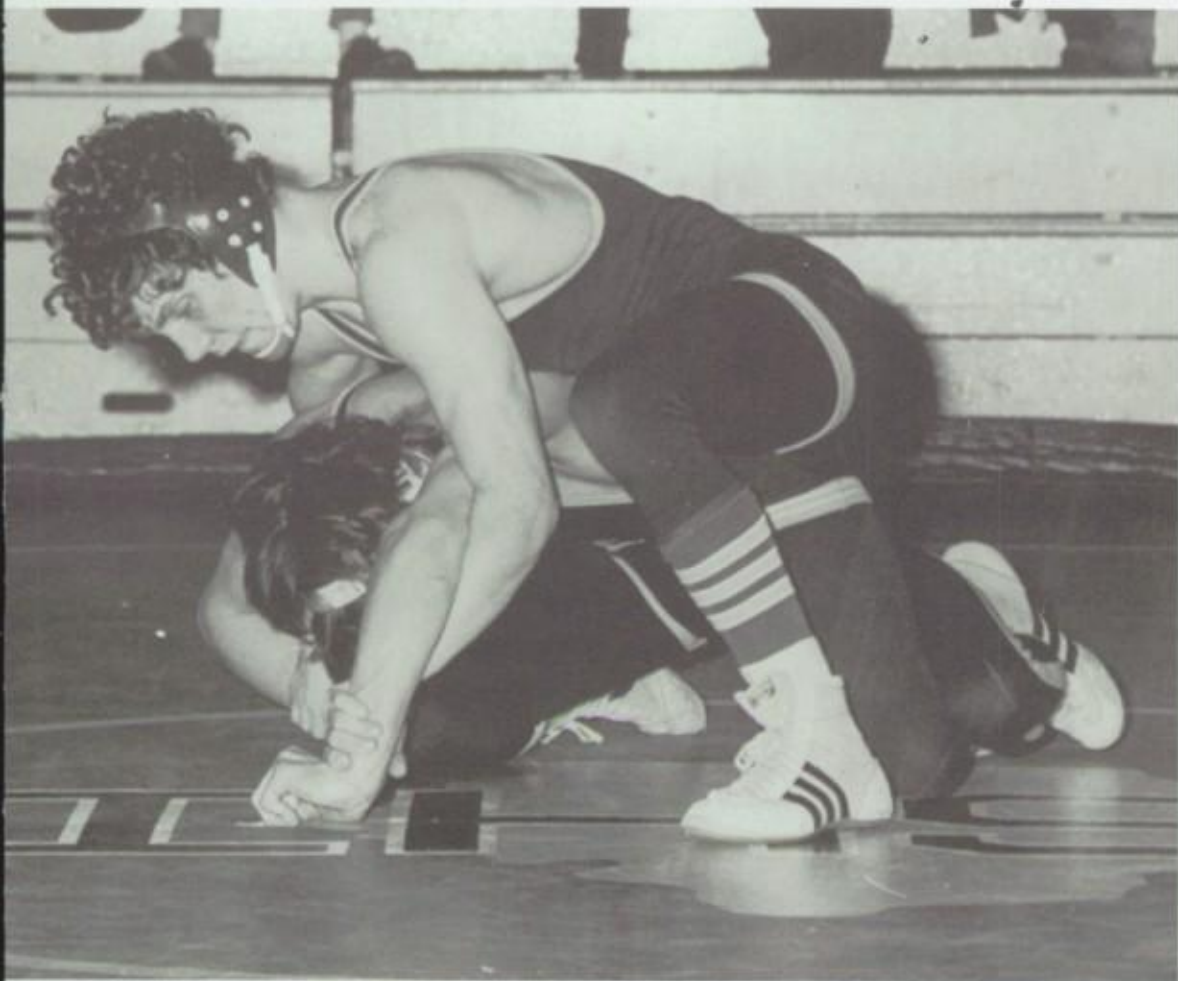

Despite the number of returning lettermen, injuries reduced the grapplers' Varsity season to a 9-11 record, with the team opening against some of the toughest competition in the state. Co-captain Joe Fiandaca highlighted the season by winning 33 matches and 5 matches in the state tournament to place 3rd in state. Co-captain Brian Strauss also made strong contributions throughout the season, traveling down state to compete, as did sophomore Charlie Doyle who wrestled varsity most of the season. Lacking sufficient upperclassmen, the team made use of the many more talented underclassmen to round out the squad. Guided by Mr. Collins and Mr. Troxell, many of the underclassmen, though possibly unsuccessful, gained much experience for the future.

Strengths Exist Despite .500 Season

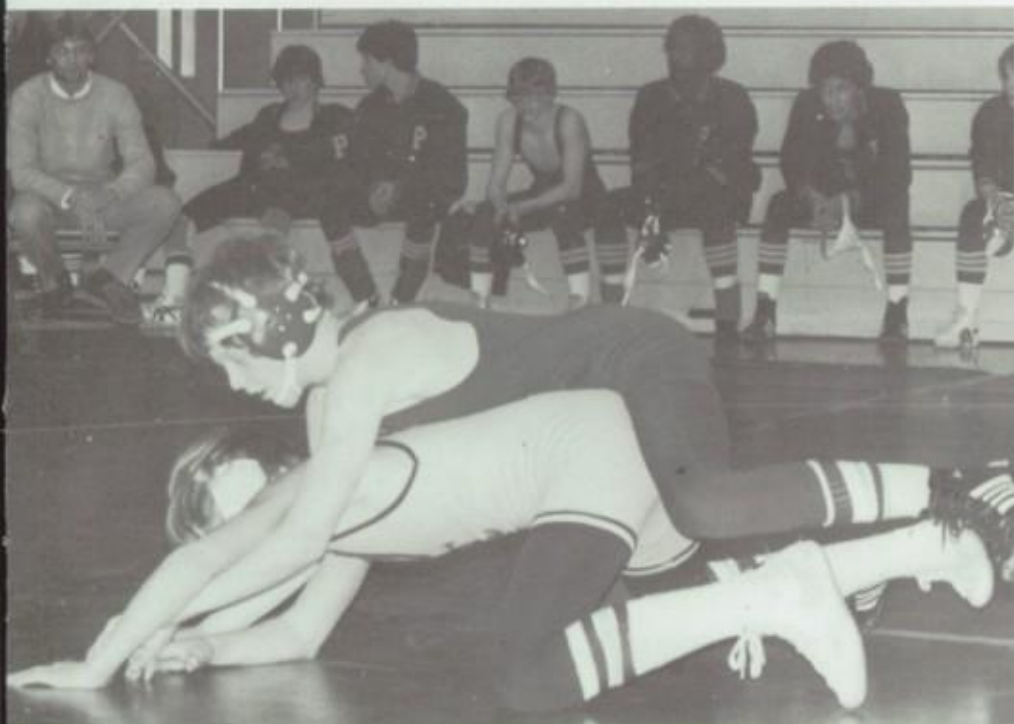

The sophomore squad, a tough and competitive team, demonstrated great prospects and development during their season. Though the squad ended the year with 6 wins and 6 losses, this .500 season did not give the entire picture of the team's strengths. A number of more talented sophomores frequently wrestled at varsity level and as a result some of the losses might have been wins had that not been necessary. Coach Hayes worked daily with the group to develop their skills.

Close Miss For First

Nearing the end of the season, the freshman squad had exhibited its strength with a record of 5-2 and had a chance of taking the conference title. However, the loss of the match to Notre Dame, cost them the conference title. Finishing the season with a 6-3 record, the season was highlighted by three overwhelming victories over conference teams. Coached by Mr. Catalano, and led by captain Terry Navarro, the team members have laid the ground work for future success.

Deciding Factors

Our administration sees that the school procedures are running smoothly and that academic programs and extra curricular activities are operating properly. Bro. Neil, Superintendent, interprets the policies and objectives of the school and must approve all decisions. Mr. Kokosinski, Assistant Principal, directs the daily operations of the school by supervising teachers, coordinating the daily bulletin, and assigning the permanent substitute teachers when needed. Mr. Charles Schmidt, Curriculum Director, works on the students' scheduling, the regular assignment of teachers, and the resolution of students' scheduling conflicts, along with supervising report card procedures. Mr. Joseph Schmidt, Dean of Students, is in charge of the student body detention program. Mr. Buscarini, Attendance Officer, supervises all absenteeism and tardies; oversees the lost and found; issues early dismissal forms; and assigns substitutes on a daily basis.

The business department's main objective was to point out to the student the orientation of the business world. Along with these classes that correlate the requirements needed for college bound students, the students also went on various field trips. Taking these courses were students who want to absorb the basic principles of business, for college and the business world. The Business Law classes, which are taught by Mr. Mahoney, who is also the Business Department Chairman, assembled his class at the Richard Daley Civic Center to see the courts in action, giving the students first hand experience of the operations of the judicial system. In Mr. Kehoe's Economics class, the Federal Reserve Board was discussed and later visited to view the money distribution process. Students also discovered how the Federal Reserve controls and restricts money in the market place. The consumer education class also attended the auto show to discover answers to questions which came up in class.

Expanding Communication Skills

With 2 new members, Mr. Egan, who joined the staff in August, and Mrs. Getto, who arrived in January, the English department, which was chaired by Mr. John Wengliniski, met once a month before school to discuss ways to further attain the goals of the department. The guiding principle of the department was the expansion of the students' communication skills, both written and oral. In addition, ideas were discussed which would affect the curriculum in years to come including the addition of several courses to the elective program. For exposure to outside resources, seniors traveled to the 400 theater to view a presentation of Macbeth, while junior and senior honor students went to the Goodman Theatre in the fall to see the play Front Page. In March they went to the Body Politic Theater to see Shakespeare's The Taming of the Shrew.

Developing an Understanding of Government

The Social Studies Department, headed by Br. John Vietoris, tried to give the students insight into our government. Creating a Cross Cultural Awareness

The department of Foreign Languages, headed by Bro. Patrick O'Neill, taught students a variety of languages and cultures of different societies. Students who scored well on their entrance exam had a choice of choosing French, German, or Spanish, which were offered in four year sequences. These courses were taught with the aid of newspapers, magazines, computers, and word games. The classes also attended a variety of foreign related movies and presented two movies of their own to develop a deeper interest in the target languages. Due to the high standards of today's society, learning a second language was not only recommended, but stressed.

Support Staff Supplements Systems

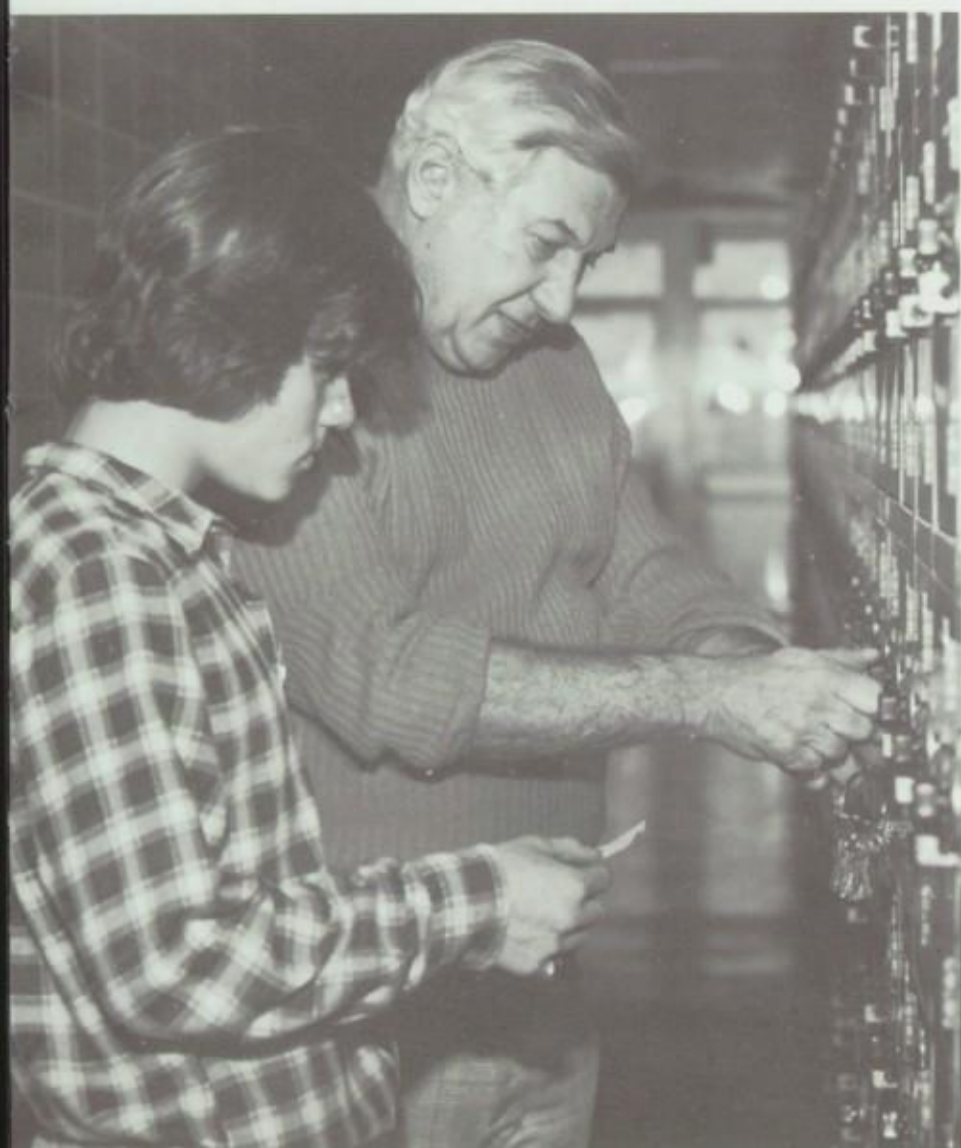

The office greeted this year with a new Business Mgr., Br. Leo Srubas, and because of the arrival of a new Apple Computer, the accounting and records departments were put on computers. Mrs. Dorothy Norris assisted Br. Leo by handling the bookkeeping matters for students' tuition and the school's accounts. Mrs. Grace Catalano, who was the school receptionist, recorded the attendance for all students, answered all phone calls and handled the daily mail. Mrs. Gladys Majewski, Br. Neil's secretary, sent out transcripts, typed correspondence for the administration and assisted in coordinating academic records. This was the first year of the Development Office, headed by Br. Nick Schumer. Responsible for fund-raising, this position was created by the Lay Advisory Board to facilitate the development of St. Pat's philosophy, "Edge for Excellence." Br. Through a variety of activities: football, basketball, hockey, baseball, calisthenics and the fundamentals of sportsmanship and hygiene. The class was a requirement for all students in at least two semesters of their four year program. All freshmen were required to take at least one semester which included classes in the pool. Under the supervision of Mr. Glorioso and Mr. Boyle, the students learned the basics of swimming or improved their style. Pursuing Christianity And

The Religion Department, headed by Brother David Galinski, helped the student to better understand his Catholic Faith and traditions. Religion classes presented a variety of topics for the students' consideration, including Vocation Awareness Week, which attempted to encourage students to consider their life's vocation. Coordinated by Brother Thomas Dominic, the week, highpoint of the year, contributed much to the understanding of vocations in general and religions vocations in particular. Other masses were planned by Mr. Chandler in the first semester and Mr. Timm in the second.

The Religion Department viewed the courses as a means to better prepare students for the pursuit of Christianity and to help them to strengthen their faith in God. The program unfolded so that the students could reflect on their lives, gain self confidence, discipline, gain knowledge of their Catholic beliefs and develop a sincere relationship with God. Freshmen and sophomores took specified courses, while juniors and seniors choose from electives. In addition, all underclassmen and the juniors were expected to attend a retreat at the Cabrini Contact Center, while seniors had an optional retreat at La Salle Manor.

All sophomores were required to take a high school Biology course. There was also an accelerated course for scientifically inclined freshmen, while on the junior and senior level, the department offered courses in Chemistry, Physics, and Advanced Placement Biology. Establishing Perspectives

The fine arts department offered an assortment of classes ranging from technical drawing to concert chorus. The objective of concert chorus was to teach an enjoyment of music through choral singing. This year's new chorus teacher, Mr. Robaczewski, taught two classes, concert chorus and music appreciation. Introduction to Art taught freshmen a basic understanding of perspective, shadows, and the art of early cultures, and Indians. While sophomores studied color and the art styles of the masters in Fine Arts Survey, juniors learned techniques in still life. Beginning Over

Entering the halls of St. Pat's in late August, the freshmen developed from quiet novices to involved high school students in a relatively short period of time. Spending the first few months learning the ropes, they experienced many things and approaches much different from their previous eight years of studies. In addition, they were able to participate in a variety of new activities: elections, different sports, new and varied activities and clubs. Having progressed to final exams and having learned a variety of new things, they were now ready to advance another notch.

Christianity at Work

The annual food drive collected a total two tons of donated food to make it a very successful charity drive. A large cage, placed in the middle of the main lobby, accommodated this large amount. Mr. Lithgow's freshman homeroom 31, which collected more pounds of food than any other homeroom, enjoyed a full day of no dress code. Under the direction of Br. John Viotoris, and with the help of Pat Wise, John Cichon, Jerry O'Connell, and the entire student body, the drive benefited The Holy Family Center and St. Thomas Of Canterbury Center which help the needy. During the drive, St. Pat's earned a reputation of sharing good fortune with those less fortunate.

Acknowledging Achievements

Because the freshman football team had such an outstanding season, the Moderator of the freshman class, Mr. William Sienkiewicz, prepared an assembly to honor their outstanding efforts. Mr. Sienkiewicz introduced Mr. Troxell and Mr. Kehoe, frosh coaches, who presented the entire squad and mentioned their many achievements. Br. Neil presented the 1st place trophy which the team had won by its efforts in conference games.

Coaches Troxell and Kehoe who led the freshman team to a 1st place win, prepare to present the frosh team, as Br. Neil speaks of their accomplishments.

Learning the Ropes

The class of 1985 first entered the doors of St. Pat's on Thursday, August 15, 1981, to begin the preparation process of becoming a freshman. On that day, they proceeded to the halls below the gym to purchase the necessary books and supplies. Shortly thereafter, on Friday, August 28, they returned, but, this time, they officially became members of the Pat's family as they underwent Freshman Orientation. Those arriving early waited impatiently in the main lobby and at 12:30, proceeded to their respective homerooms, where they were indoctrinated in school rules and procedures by their homeroom teacher. In two shifts, groups were brought to the cafeteria where they received further information from the members of the administration, followed by a tour of the school which was guided by their homeroom teacher and an Honor Society guide. The neophytes had the opportunity to locate their lockers and practice their combinations. Though these initial encounters were met with fear and trepidation, the frosh soon grew familiar with their surroundings and began to add their own meanings to St. Pat's tradition.

Mr. Kurland aids bewildered freshmen who are trying to open their lockers for the first time.

Initiating New Procedures

With the arrival of Brother Leo Srubas as director of the Business Office, new procedures were instituted which affected each student at exam time. Beginning approximately 3 weeks prior to final semester exams, students whose tuition accounts were paid to the end of the semester received special exam permits which gave them the right to sit for finals and as the remainder brought their accounts up to date, they too received the necessary permits. Classes were called to the main lobby by homeroom and members of the administration verified the student's name and issued their validated permit.

Looking To The Future

The Entrance Examination for the class of 1986 was held on January 9th. The test covered three subject areas: Math ability, Reading ability, and English usage. The students had to use all of their skills for the three hour test. Brother Patrick O'Neill, exam supervisor, reported that 327 students took the exam. The test was taken with 30 students per room, each with one faculty member prefecting. Almost all of the applicants were accepted, some on a temporary acceptance basis during which they were required to take the summer educational development program.

Sophs' Celebration

Sophomore year is a time for celebration. Unlike Senior year, which has graduation and the prom, sophomores rejoice with different reasons in mind. No longer being freshmen, they now have certain advantages and privileges and are already well aware of the school layout. They also have established friendships and no longer need to worry about the lengthy process of making new friends. Because they take biology, they have their first opportunity to dissect a frog and perform other experiments. Their improved status gives them a wider selection of courses, and finally, they are eligible to participate in the long awaited and anticipated course, driver's education.

Encouraging Budding Artists

Under the direction of Mrs. Forgue, the Art Club sponsored its third annual art contest in April. The rules stated that both art students and non-art students could compete and be judged separately. The top prizes were won by senior Martin Dudzinski (art student) and junior Mark DeLaMar. In the non-art category, second and third prizes were won by junior Manuel Roberto Herrera and sophomore Bill Wallbaum consecutively. Junior Aaron O'Brien received the $20 art student prize, while senior Jim Lofton won the $10 prize. The $30 first prize, along with the others were awarded during the April 28 Art Club meeting.

It's a Great Day at G.A.

Coordinated by Mr. Bill Sienkiewicz and Br. John Vietoris, the Student Council sponsored a school-wide trip to Great America's opening day on Saturday, May 1. Approximately 100 freshmen, sophomores, juniors, guests and faculty chaperones assembled in the parking lot for a 9:45 A.M. departure in two rented buses and a school van. On arrival everyone dispersed to seek out his favorite attraction, and during the course of the day, different groups could be seen enjoying the park's plentiful rides and shows. Since the crowds were actually quite small, many of the most daring rides had short waiting lines, and as a result, Patsmen were frequently able to return and enjoy the exhilarating experiences several times. At closing time, all re-assembled at the buses and departed for home at 8:45, delighted, though exhausted.

Developing The Faith

Liturgical services are an important part of the St. Pat's student life. St. Patrick's places a high value on the development of a proper religious education. The liturgies also provide the students with an opportunity to share community with other people on a religious level. To achieve these goals, the religion department, headed by Br. David Galinski, and supervised by Mr. Timm, presented a variety of special liturgies. Highlighting the religious experiences of the year were: the Thanksgiving Mass, which thanked God for his many gifts, the Ash Wednesday Celebration, designed to emphasize the meaning of Lent, the mass of Vocation Awareness Week, at which Bob Thomas of the Chicago Bears spoke on his vocation as a Christian, and the Junior Ring Ceremony, which blessed the rings and celebrated the attainment of the end of junior year. The final liturgy was set aside to give the seniors an opportunity to reflect on their four years at St. Pat's and to thank God for the education they received.

At the consecration of the mass, a visiting priest raises the chalice for our veneration and adoration.

New Chances

Upper classmen at last, the class of '83 enjoyed new opportunities and experiences. As juniors, they were able to participate, for the first time in a H.S. honors program, and go on a 2 day retreat to the Christian Brothers La Salle Manor in Plano, Illinois. They were also given their class rings and celebrated the occasion at their prom. The PSAT and ACT were required for those who were college bound. Opportunities and careers for the future were given deep consideration as the final year at St. Pat's approached.

Journalist Demonstrates Excellence

On Tuesday, April 6, junior Scott Schubert, Copy Editor of the Green and Gold, was honored at a luncheon for his first place finish on the Portage Park writing contest. The general topic of the contest involved the expression of one's patriotism, while Scott's particular subject concerned changing history by having General Lee fight for the North, thus ending the war much more quickly. Sponsored by the Portage Park Women's Association, the contest had 45 entries from area schools.

Br. David Pieters congratulates Scott after Mrs. Babcock of the Portage Park Women's Association presented the first place trophy.

A Taste of Tradition

On December 17, instead of having its annual Christmas party, the French Club joined the German Club and Mrs. Bellavia's Spanish II and III classes to hold an International Christmas Festival. Also invited were language students from Madonna H.S. who provided entertainment in the form of French and Spanish Christmas carols, dancing, and a magic act. The St. Pat's students supplied the food: chocolate mousse, chocolate fondue, quiche lorraine, french bread, cheese, croissants, bûche Noël, leberkas, bowle, Christmas stollen, weistwurst, pretzels, gingerbread cookies, sopa fría, guacamole, and, the ever popular, taco chips. As a finale, teachers and students participated in the Spanish Christmas tradition of the breaking of the piñatas.

ANSWERING THE CHRISTIAN CALL

As part of a year long effort to encourage vocations, the Christian Brothers sponsored a Vocation Awareness Week, under the direction of Brother Thomas Dominic. During the week, the religion teachers discussed the idea of vocations with their pupils, and on Wednesday, asked them to prepare questions for Thursday's guest speakers. These members of different religious orders came from a variety of schools and Catholic organizations throughout the city. The week ended with a double assembly schedule on Friday for a special Mass which stressed vocation awareness, and the idea that we are vessels of the Lord. Celebrant for both Masses was Father Fraser, while Bob Thomas of the Chicago Bears was the homilist at the Jr.-Sr. Mass and Father Robert Darow of St. Ladislaus Parish spoke at the frosh-soph Mass.

Chicago Bear Bob Thomas speaks of his vocation as a Christian at the junior-senior Mass.

Finalizing

Beginning with their entry into their culminating year, the seniors enjoyed a variety of experiences which constantly pointed to their finale, graduation. In September, they sat for their senior portraits and were able to purchase from a variety of selections. Even in their final year, they encountered among the faculty and students many new faces, which would influence their daily and future lives. Later in the fall, they again listened, perhaps a little more intently, to the college, career, and financial aid nights' presentations. In December, senior English viewed a presentation of MacBeth by Roman Pulanski. In the spring, the seniors were able to attend performances of the Stuntman and Amacord. Soon after, on May 15, the high-point of their 4 year experience, the Senior Prom, was hosted at the Arlington Park Hilton. On May 17th the Merit Awards assembly honored those who had made a substantial contribution to the year's efforts. Even in the waning moments, those seniors participated in the beginning of a new tradition, for their graduation exercises were held for the first time in the Auditorium Theater, instead of Arie Crown Theater.

Seniors enjoy a lighter moment in the course of Senior Composition.

Shooting Memories

To the senior of 1981-'82, there was no surer sign that he was finally approaching the end of his time at St. Pat's than to sit for his senior portrait. On Wednesday, September 30, the first of senior portrait days arrived. The process, organized by Br. John Blease, involved each senior during the several day session. Each potential graduate took 10 minutes of classtime to sit for his portrait by a professional photographer from Root Studios. With several photographers working simultaneously, the entire class was processed in three days due to smooth organization. At that time seniors were able to order from a variety of packages and prices to obtain color shots as mementos of their achievements. This was among the first signals to each senior that he would soon be leaving behind the many memories that began in August, 1978.

Senior Tony Bongiorno checks in with Kevin Tobin and Willie Medina.

Going for First

Senior Joe Fiandaca (126 lbs.) 38-3, Senior Brian Strauss (138 lbs.) 31-13-1, and sophomore Charlie Doyle (105 lbs.) 28-11, all qualified for the State Tournament in Champaign, after each placed second in I.H.S.A. sectionals up to this year St. Pat's had only sent a total of three wrestlers downstate. This year's efforts have doubled that number. The opening round started off with a bang, as all three of our wrestlers won. The second round proved more difficult, as winners battled winners and each of Pat's grapplers lost. Joe got a second chance, however, when Pat Parts (who beat Joe in the second round) was able to win his next match. This enabled Joe to continue in the competition and he took advantage of this opportunity by winning his next four matches (2-1, 1-0, 4-3 and for the third place title, 14-4). The others didn't fare as well as the wrestlers who defeated them did not continue as far. Oddly enough before this year St. Patrick's has never had three wrestlers go down state, but now we have three wrestlers going at once.

Dietetic Feats

The cafeteria crew, directed by Mrs. Fulkerson, continued in their efforts to meet St. Pat's dietetic need daily, both before school and at lunch. In addition to the regular meals, two special attempts were made to delight the students' palates. In early winter, the staff prepared a special Spanish style repast complete with decorations, including piñatas, to enhance the atmosphere. Later, in late winter, they prepared a western style meal, also complete with decorations and with the hostesses wearing western apparel. By these innovations, though they required extra preparations, the cafeteria staff demonstrated their desire to help brighten our winter with something a little out of the ordinary.

Winning Ways

On March 1, German III and IV students, and a select group of German II students demonstrated their skills in the art of poetry reciting, narrative reading, and play writing in the second annual U of C German Day. Beginning with a tour of the University of Chicago's campus at 8:30 am, the German students awaited the highlight, the competition with schools including: Lane Tech, Maria, Carl Sandburg, St. Benedict, Thorndale, and St. Pats, of course. When the competition started, Seniors Frank Cordas and Ulrich Wohn and Sophomore Ramel Aranas recited poetry; Sophomore Joe Pusateri and Senior Peter Margui recited Narrative readings; and the German IV students presented the play, "Rumplestilskin", written by Senior Steve Schmid.

When the competition ended, St. Pat's walked away with an overall first prize after Romel Aranes won a first place trophy and the German IV students won a first place trophy for their efforts.

This year brought us good fortune, but it also had its share of tragedies. The biggest tragedy was the deaths of three fellow students: Christopher Gice '82, Kevin McTigue, '83, and Thomas O'Brien '83. Though they are gone, they will never be forgotten, and of course, we find our comfort in that we know they are enjoying their eternal reward as promised by the Lord.

Pride and Support

Moderated by Bro. Richard, the cheerleaders brought pride and support to the school by cheering for our football and basketball teams. The girls on the squad came from neighboring high schools and became members by process of elimination. The routines that were done at the games were originated by the girls themselves. Their first appearance was made at the opening game, but they truly exhibited their support when they marched in the Homecoming Parade escorted the school's float in the St. Patrick's Day Parade, and won a second place prize in the annual float contest for their beautifully decorated van.

An Era Passes

On Sunday April 25th at 12:19 A.M., John Cardinal Cody, Cardinal-Archbishop of the Archdiocese of Chicago passed away to his eternal reward at the age of 74 after serving the church for over 50 years and the Archdiocese of Chicago for 17 years. Having affected most of us for all of our lives, his death will certainly affect us in so far as his successor has the choice of following his policies or not. Among his contributions for which he will long be remembered in Chicago are: The Catholic Television Network of Chicago and the pastoral offices for campus ministry, the deaf, and divorced and separated Catholics.

On April 29th, the Cardinal was interred in the Bishop's Crypt at Mount Carmel Cemetery in Hillside, where some of the previous Bishops and Archbishops of Chicago are also buried.

Better Luck Next Time

On March 26, the Bears were again challenged by our Faculty in the annual Bears/Faculty basketball game, which turned out to be a close match. The constant action of the game kept everyone's eyes riveted to the court. Of course, Noah Jackson, with his jokes and antics, was the star of the show. Otis Wilson and his fabulous dunks, Mr. Robaczewski's one handed layups, and the Faculty cheerleaders, accompanied by our green mascot, leprechaun, Bob Arifi, were among the highlights of the evening. At half-time, a game ball was awarded students were able to have their picture taken with their favorite Bear; and a souvenir stand was located out in the lobby for game souvenirs. Bear players were also available afterwards for photographs. Though the game was humorous, both teams played in sportsmanlike fashion, and the Bears once again defeated our Faculty.

Otis Wilson puts up one of his many layups against our Faculty.

Funding Future Education

On Tuesday, December 1, the seniors gathered in the gym to listen to a financial aids presentation. Mr. Jack Christianson, the speaker, gave the seniors first hand information on filling out financial aid forms. When the seniors arrived with their parents, they received financial aid forms from schools they were interested in attending, scholarship information, and instructions for filling out Student Loan applications. During the two hour session, the students viewed several slides on college costs, tuitions, and of course, financial aid. Afterwards, Mr. Christianson was available to answer any additional questions.

Mr. Christianson responds to questions pertinent to his slide presentation.

New Year Sees New Faculty

Last year's faculty encountered a number of personnel changes. Bro. Leo Srubas, the new office business manager, is also a certified public accountant. Bro. Leo Weidner, teaching math and religion, had 20 years of experience behind him. Bro. John Michael, a typing teacher, holds two degrees from De Paul and is a native Chicagoan. Mr. Tom Robaczewski, who taught music appreciation and directed the concert chorus, holds a degree in music from Northeastern University. Mr. Mike Egan, whose degree is in psychology, taught psychology and American literature. Teaching religion and social justice was Mr. John Hammond; he holds a degree in political science. He also became the new track and cross country coach. Mr. Aloysius "Doc" Chandler, teaching religion had taught at a military academy. He was replaced after the first semester by Mr. Terrence Timm holding a degree in philosophy. Mrs. Helen Getto, who teaches English, holds a degree in English. We had three faculty members who were sick during the course of the year, Mr. Jim Lithgow, Ms. Faith Worcester, and Miss Joan Cassin. Replacing Mr. Lithgow for 5 weeks and Ms. Worcester for 2 weeks was Mrs. Jean Tucker, a former teacher here at St. Pat's. Replacing Miss Cassin for an extended period of time was Mr. Terry Ratajesak with a degree in political science.

Marchin' in the Sun

The sun was shining, the Irish were smiling and it was St. Patrick's Day. The parade ceremony began at St. Patrick's Church with a 9:30 mass and a blessing by Bishop Nevin Hayes. The official procession began at Dearborn and Hubbard, near the Chicago River, which had been dyed green for the occasion. The school had two entries this year: 35th in the procession was the float celebrating Christian Brother Service in education. Riding the float were Administrative Officials escorted by our friendly leprechauns. Our second entry, The Right To Life Club Banner, was 78th in the procession. Among the honored spectators were: Mayor Jane Byrne, Governor Jim Thompson, and Timothy McCarthy, the Secret Service agent who had shielded President Reagan in the assassination attempt.

Br. David Galinski attempts to organize the participants in the parade as it begins.

Proving the Obvious

As the '82 school year came to a close, St. Patrick proved to be "A School With Meaning". The never ending Shamrock spirit and dedicated students molded the year into a unique memory.

The memory began with events including: Homecoming, Spirit Week, plays, proms, and graduation: that not only signaled a new beginning, but by their very nature, symbolized meaning and captured the pride of the occasion.

The sports program saw many of its teams capture titles and record victories to place respectably in conference. Three wrestlers traveled down state; the Varsity Baseball team finished 2nd in conference, while the sophomores tied for 1st. The many other teams not only finished just as well, but placed significant meaning on the word "school," especially "St. Patrick."

The freshmen began their lives at St. Pat's with added responsibility, while the sophomores and juniors better understood the school's real "meaning". The seniors terminated their four years by attending their Senior Prom and their graduation, highlights of the year.

Through the course of the year, a few unexpected misfortunes touched the hearts of all. The deaths of three students: Kevin McTigue, Thomas O'Brien, Christopher Gice, and a teacher, Br. Patrick O'Neill, will always remain in the minds of everyone. As we review the events of the year, we see that St. Patrick's does have a special meaning, and that it could only be found in each and every Shamrock who personally had the chance to experience it.

Editor's Acknowledgements

Now, I'd like to personally give my feelings on the "meaning" of our school, St. Patrick. I believe this could only be done by finding the real "meaning" in our dictionary, the pictorial history of our unique school. Each and every article clearly presents factual data about the school and its students. Each picture distinctly portrays a Shamrock searching for the true "meaning", no matter what the activity.

When I flip through the Events section, I discover events that made my terminating year a special one. In particular, Senior Prom and Graduation were of importance because I shared them with my close personal friends and my fellow classmates. Homecoming was always exciting throughout the years because it brought out each student's pride, spirit, and support towards the school.

While viewing the sports scene, I found hardworking and dedicated individuals who put forth their best efforts in order to find their "meaning". Each team, no matter what the sport, never gave up their fight for "meaning" because they represented a school they were proud of.

Students involved in school organizations perceived their "meaning" through their never ending responsibility towards that particular club.

I truly found my "meaning" through both, sports and organizations, as I was involved in each. I did experience this because I got out what I put in, "meaning".

My reaction to St. Patrick's and its students and faculty was a positive one. Even though the memories and good times are behind me now, they won't be forgotten as long as I have my yearbook. When I started my high school years here at St. Pat's, I was entering a new world, something that I had never experienced before. As I locate in my new surroundings at DePaul University, where I'll be majoring in Accounting, I won't ever forget my past at Pat's.

I enjoyed putting together the 1982 Shamrock, as the responsibility was a challenge. The entire staff and myself would like to thank you for experiencing the real "meaning" with us. It would have never been possible without the help and support from the moderators, Mr. James Lithgow and Br. John Blease.

Sincerely Yours

Victor J. Fontanetta
